

Officer Safety

This is a large plastic drink cup designed to hold a small handgun. There is a mold in the bottom of the cup with magnets to securely hold the handgun. From a casual glance, there is no way to tell the cup has a gun in it. Attached are some photos from the website; something else to keep an eye out for.

